EcoTeach will consider funding requests from individual undergraduate students or groups. Priority funding is given to undergraduates conducting research as part of the honors program and can include funding for data sets or specialized research software, or support of conference travel to present research. Requestors of research support must first apply for support from Trinity's Undergraduate Research Support Program, which gives individual grants of up to $350.

See: <http://www.aas.duke.edu/trinity/urs/>

All requestors are encouraged to seek funding from other sources.

Please check all that apply:
